An Outstanding Resume in the Eye of the Recruiters – Roy Wattanasin and Kitty Huang

Most recruiters spend 7 seconds to decide if a resume is a keeper. The resume style, the listing sequence of your skillset, and the number of times your resume hits the keywords a recruiter is looking for are some of the deciding factors. Your “whole life’s” worth is judged in seconds. Don’t be the one that got away. This resume workshop will help you to fine tune your existing resume and help you to continue to the next round.
